1. FYI: Change in kF Personnel

Here is information from Sandra Baker, Project Director:

Steve Moats, Program Director, is moving into a new role in a GRREC district. Steve's innovative spirit and expertise has been an integral part of moving the project from a bold idea on paper to actionable strategies. His continual strive for excellence has been critical in work that will greatly benefit more than 60,000 students. To sustain momentum built by the team, I have asked Karen Barron to serve as the interim lead through September 1. By September 1, I will share a permanent plan for the leadership of the communities of practice. With the next CoP event quickly approaching, I know the coaches and Karen will continue to provide the teacher leaders both a quality and engaging event. Please join me in thanking Karen for graciously accepting this role in moving this work forward.

2. kid-FRIENDLY HS Principals Invited to Attend Leader in Me Symposium (Nov. 17-18 in Owensboro) at No Cost

Nolan Marx has graciously agreed to let kid-FRIENDLY High School Principals attend the Leader in Me Symposium at no cost this year. It will be held Nov.17-18, 2015, in Owensboro, KY. We will provide the HS Principals' registration code as soon as we receive it from FranklinCovey. All other school staff may apply to present, or volunteer, and if selected their registration fee may be waived. You may follow this link to apply: <http://symposium.theleaderinme.org/>. For more information contact Liz Brewer at liz.brewer@grrec.ky.gov

3. Reminder: Data Retreat Train-the Trainer, August 24-26. Must register today.

Individuals from GRREC, OVEC, and kid-FRIENDLY staff (and Shelby County) will be trained to facilitate the data retreat process for their organizations. This is the only opportunity to secure this no-cost training for someone in your district but we must have registrations by this afternoon.
